Couplepreneur Quotes

“Life partners can build dream businesses together and enjoy prosperity through partnership.”

“Being prosperous partners in life and in business is much more complicated than being partners in only one of these endeavors.”

“The couple is the building block of society and can also be the foundation of a great business.”

“Couplepreneurs have the opportunity to leave a great legacy: a successful business that supports family values, that has a positive social impact, and contributes to the community.”

“Couplepreneurs often create specialized business models that are able to compete very well against larger corporations, while also providing the couple with a more balanced, integrated life.”

“Many couples have found that building a business together enriched their lives and gave them a new dimension.”

“Building a business with a life partner is a great opportunity to learn and grow professionally and personally.”

“Couplepreneurship is a growing phenomenon for several reasons, including: corporate downsizing; more women entering the workforce; early retirees looking for another venture; and technology that allows a small business to become a viable option for earning a family income.”
